

All data

Values close to zero show that changing the human-impact proxy has little effect

